Dominic Agace, Chief Executive Officer of the Company, commented:

"Our first half results, which are in line with management's expectations, are not flattered by the comparison with the extraordinarily strong first half of 2021, but show that our business has developed well since the last year of normalised trading in 2019. As such, we are pleased with the good progress that we have made since then. We enter the second half with an overhang of unfulfilled business, the confidence that our franchisees are adept at adjusting rapidly to changing markets, and a business model that is designed to perform throughout the property cycle."

Chairman's Statement

After the exceptionally strong first half in 2021, this year's results are encouraging and Winkworth has continued to trade well. As things stand, sales transactions remain brisk, although there are now signs that buyers in some areas are becoming more cautious of excessive valuations, taking note of rising inflation and interest rates and either making the most of available mortgage offers or re-assessing their timings.

Tel: 020 7408 4090

This shift in market sentiment may affect sales volumes going into 2023 and lead to a more careful pricing environment, where the most important consideration becomes choosing a buyer at a price that will ensure completion of the transaction. Winkworth's tailor-made approach to handling transactions becomes of even greater importance in more mature markets such as these.

The lettings and management business has continued to grow. We are, however, following closely developments which may have a bearing on the long-term prospects for growth in the sector, in particular the political debate on the future of the private rental sector.

Over the course of my career, I have experienced the Rent Acts pre-1986 and I am, therefore, personally wary of the outcome of the current debate on the relationship between landlords and tenants. It is interesting to note that the Irish government has recently suggested introducing incentives to encourage landlords to grant longer leases to tenants in return for tax incentives, whereas in the UK, July 2022's White Paper considers scrapping fixed-term tenancy agreements altogether. This uncertainty may cause some landlords in the UK to reduce their portfolios or exit the business.

While the build to rent sector may replace some of the demand at the mid to lower end of the market, it will not replace the higher demand for the individual and varied supply of rental properties generated by the private rental sector. At this point of the cycle, we suspect that Winkworth's sales business will grow faster than rentals.

The core Winkworth franchise business continues to show organic growth through steady and consistent expansion of the network, while the businesses where we have taken an equity stake are producing slightly more dynamic growth, giving us a good mix of earnings. Our strategy remains to maintain a positive cash balance through the cycle, and to make loans selectively to franchisees looking to expand, thus broadening the Company's footprint. Estate agency is a cyclical business, tied to the UK economy and a fluctuating market, and one where the ability to retain cash brings both stability and opportunities.

CEO's Statement

Activity in the sales market remained strong in the first half of the year. Comparisons for the first half of the last three years are difficult to make, with trading in 2020 having been severely disrupted by lock downs, while as a result of the government's stamp duty holiday in 2021, with a deadline set for the end of June (exemption was tapered from £500,000 to £250,000 until September 2021), sales in the first half of that year were boosted by completions which would ordinarily have taken place in July and August 2021.

While H1 2022 activity was below the level of H1 2021, it was significantly ahead of the last normalised year of trading in 2019. Sales agreed in H1 2022 were 16% down on H1 2021 but 40% ahead of H1 2019.

Demand picked up in London, as buyers returned to city centres post-pandemic and proximity to work regained importance. As a result, we saw prices for houses starting to rise in London, while interest in flats also picked up significantly as Covid trends abated. With some buy-to-let landlords selling down their portfolios, however, the supply of flats increased and held back prices.

We also saw an upturn in activity in prime central London, resulting in these offices accounting for a higher proportion of revenues. This was led by lettings, with gross revenues rising by 14% in H1 versus 8% at Group level. While the lettings side of the business has been leading the way, prime central London offers good value relative to other international cities and we would expect international interest in the sales market to return.

In the country markets we have seen demand easing as rapid recent price increases and a partial reversion to city living have cooled demand. With supply remaining extremely limited, however, prices continued to rise in H1 as pent-up demand fed through.

Overall, in H1 2022 we sold more properties than any other online or traditional agent in the postcodes that we cover².

Lettings and management continued to be extremely busy, with activity picking up where 2021 left off and London leading the way in terms of price rises, making up lost ground on the country markets and now some 15% ahead of pre-pandemic levels. Demand has been boosted by a return to cities from the country and, in prime central London, by international interest including students. The supply of rental properties has been squeezed by landlords selling off properties on the back of increased taxation and regulation, with the prospect of further proposals, which are currently being debated further affecting their profitability. As a result, many landlords have taken the opportunity of a strong sales market to exit, creating a perfect storm for rent increases.

In H1 2022, gross revenues of the franchised network of £27.7m were 24% lower year-on-year (2021: £36.4m) but 29% higher than the £21.4m achieved in the last normalised period of 2019. Sales income was down by 39% at £15.0m (2021: £24.6m; 2019: £10.0m) while Lettings and Management increased by 8% to £12.7m (2021: £11.8m; 2019: £11.4m), producing a 54:46 revenue split between these two activities compared to a 68:32 ratio in 2021.

Winkworth's revenues fell by 18% to £4.28m (H1 2021: £5.25m) and profit before taxation by 46% to £1.07m (H1 2021: £1.98m). The Group's cash stood at £4.11m at 30 June 2022 (H1 2021: £4.57m) and ordinary dividends of 5.4p were declared for the first half of the year (H1 2021: 4.4p).

The investments that we have made in selected offices through taking equity stakes in partnership with proven operators have continued to bear fruit, generating increased franchise fees on the back of the success of these businesses as well as profit contributions to the Company. Winkworth Tooting is now well-established and has retained its leading position by market share for sales agreed in the area. Winkworth Crystal Palace has continued to grow, both its market share and revenues and is expected to make an increasingly significant contribution going into next year.

Elsewhere, our new Developments and Commercial Investments business, which is still at an early stage of development, is expected to be profitable in 2022 and to grow significantly in 2023. These new ventures have made a considerable difference to our business since we first invested in 2018 and, alongside new franchising opportunities and the franchiseeled acquisitions that we back, we expect these to help drive our growth over and above market trends in the years ahead.

After opening six new offices in 2021, we carried a healthy pipeline of opportunities into 2022, supporting our talented franchisees in Bath and Exeter to acquire and convert long-established businesses in Bristol and Crediton respectively, the latter adding to the recently launched office in Tiverton last year. We now have five offices in Devon, building on a localised hub, which will continue to provide Winkworth with a regional point of growth, in the same way as has our highly successful Norfolk local network.

With further opportunities in the pipeline, we expect to open 6-8 new offices this year. In addition, we have resold our Shepherds Bush office to a new operator, as we did with our Ealing and Fulham offices last year, bringing a new generation of talented franchisees into well established and successful offices. We expect their energy and commitment to take these offices to new heights.

Outlook

Despite a backdrop of increasing interest rates leading to higher funding costs, our sales applicants remain high. Sales applicants in July 2022 were 4% ahead of July 2021 and 26% ahead of July 2019. Lettings demand continues to be strong, with applicants up 7% versus July 2021 and 44% ahead of 2019. We do expect the increased cost of borrowing to have an impact on property, softening demand and slowing the price increases seen of late. With strong levels of employment, however, as well as the significant pent-up demand to relocate post-Covid, and as the cost of renting increases, we expect sales demand to remain strong for the remainder of the year, with prices in positive territory.

Beyond that, much will depend on the trajectory of interest rates and macro-economic factors. With a limited fixed cost base, a healthy cash balance and no debt, we remain confident. Our considered growth strategy is to support talented and proven franchisees in acquiring businesses and to expand our equity ownership of businesses in partnership with established operators. In this way, we believe we can outperform market trends and continue to pay a progressive dividend.
